News Release

Union County Now Using Twitter

March 1, 2012, Monroe, NC – Union County government is now on Twitter.

“The County recently opened a Twitter account that may be followed at www.twitter.com/unioncountync,” said Public Information Officer Brett Vines. “I encourage everyone to go to the County’s Twitter page and sign-up to receive our tweets which will be short versions of County news stories, meeting and event announcements and reminders and other information.”

Tweets are visible to the public, but registering with Twitter to subscribe to – or follow – Union County’s Twitter feed allows a person to receive updates via email or mobile device.

“Twitter will be used as another means to get news to Union County residents,” said Vines.

“With our website, UCTV 16, weekly Union Update newsletter, Facebook, YouTube, and now Twitter, we are able to reach a large majority of our citizens to keep them up-to-date with information about their County government.”
