

Project Food, Land, and People Workshop for Educators

Project Food, Land, and People (FLP) helps people of all ages make the important connections between a healthy natural resource base, a viable agricultural economy, and a sustainable future for the world's people who consume and celebrate life-giving food.

Date: Saturday, December 9th

Time: 9:30am-4pm (with 30 minute lunch)

Location: Union County Agricultural Center

Facilitators: Chelsea Sloggy, CEE and Tammi Remsburg, CEE

This 6-hour workshop for both formal and non-formal educators (ages 18 and older) will offer hands-on activities and a 55-lesson, PreK-12 curriculum that is yours to keep, free of charge. Up to 10 Criteria I credit hours can be earned for NC EE Certification and CEUs are available for teachers. Lunch and snacks will be provided to participants at no charge.

Registration is required to attend.
